Array assistant 3

A. Design a function to arrange the elements of the array in ascending order.
B. Design a function to arrange the elements of the array in descending order.
C. Design a function to count the number of vowels in the given array.
D. Design a function to count the number of times the given number occurs in the given array.
E. Design a function to return the index of last occurrence of the given number in the given array.

Note:- All array should be sent from calling functions,
Andl results should sent back to calling functions.